2026 Annual Event Programme

15 - 16 June 2026
University of Southampton
Southampton | UK

Useful Information

Onsite WiFi

Eduroam is available. For individuals without Eduroam access, you can use WiFi Guest. You should not need to register but you will need to accept The Cloud (Sky)'s Terms and Conditions.

Timings

All of the published conference times are in British Summer Time (BST). To find the time in your local time zone, you can use

<https://www.timeanddate.com/worldclock/converter.html?p1=136>

Finding your way around

The conference will take place at Avenue Campus:

<https://www.southampton.ac.uk/student-life/campuses/avenue>

The conference is in rooms:

- Ground Floor of Avenue Campus
 - 65/1163
 - 65/1177
 - 65/1095
 - Lecture Theatre C (65/1175)
- Upper Second Floor of Avenue Campus (lift accessible)
 - Digital Humanities Hub (65/2155)

There will be conference signage posted throughout the venue.

Inclusive conduct

The Association is committed to providing a safe, open and welcoming environment. All participants will comply with a code of conduct emphasising a spirit of inclusivity, printed in full on page 5.

Access needs

There are further details on accessibility on page 24. If you have any questions or concerns, feel free to reach out at uk-ie.digitalhumanities@sas.ac.uk.

Quiet spaces

- There is a dedicated quiet space for delegates to decompress in (Room 65/1093). No meetings or calls please.

- The DH Hub (upper second floor, 65/2155) will be open throughout the event, and you are welcome to use the space for work and to take calls

Prayer space

Information about access to prayer rooms is available by contacting chaplaincy@soton.ac.uk.

Parenting facilities

There is a New and Expectant Parent Room (room 65/2121) on the 2nd floor of the event venue, which delegates are welcome to use. There's a slider next to the door to indicate whether the room is occupied.

Fire alarms

A routine fire alarm test is scheduled for Monday afternoon, usually between 1–3pm. No action is necessary and you may wish to briefly step outside while the alarm sounds (British weather depending!).

Photography

Please be advised that there will be photography and/or videography taken during this event. Captured images may be used for the Association's promotional activities, such as online media (incl. social media), print/publications, and media/press.

If you do not wish to be photographed, please either email us (uk-ie.digitalhumanities@sas.ac.uk) or let one of the organisers know in-person on the day. We will have stickers to add to your name badges.

Getting in touch

If you have any issues during the conference, you can find any member of the organising team at the registration desk. The conference website is <https://digitalhumanities-uk-ie.org/2026-annual-event/>. Online attendees can get in touch at uk-ie.digitalhumanities@sas.ac.uk.

Event Sponsors

The UK-Ireland Digital Humanities Association is grateful to our generous sponsors whose support makes the event possible.

Foundational support is provided by the School of Advanced Study, University of London. The School champions arts and humanities, supporting researchers to demonstrate their contribution to the wider research and innovation landscape, and the impact of their research on policymakers, communities and individuals. In addition to the ongoing foundational support, additional support for this year's event was provided by the University of London Press and the university's John Coffin Memorial Fund.

Additional support is provided by the Social History Archive. The Social History Archive offers academics and researchers access to the largest collection of British and Irish and former Empire historical resources anywhere online. Catering to a range of academic interests, the ever-growing digital archive provides access to hundreds of millions of images of historical records and newspapers. Thanks to partnerships with some of the world's most prestigious institutions and archives, like The National Archives and the British Library we can deliver a diverse range of primary sources, enabling research into the people, places and events that have shaped the world.

Code of Conduct

The Association is committed to providing a safe, open and welcoming environment. All event participants - including peer reviewers, presenters, attendees, and members of the organising and programme committees - contribute to creating and maintaining a spirit of inclusivity.

We expect all participants to maintain a considerate and professional demeanour at all times, including in all event-related processes and communications, whether in person or online. Our goal is to create a harassment-free environment where everyone, regardless of their background or identity, feels safe, respected, and included. We expect participants to

- Be considerate and respectful of all cultures, backgrounds, and perspectives.
- Be collaborative and endeavour to resolve misunderstandings directly, through open dialogue and respectful feedback.
- Gracefully offer and accept constructive feedback.
- Refrain from demeaning, discriminatory, or harassing behaviour and speech.
- Be mindful of your surroundings and of your fellow participants. Alert conference organizers if you notice a dangerous situation or someone in distress.

We have zero tolerance for any kind of harassment, intimidation, or discrimination. All actions or behaviours intended to exclude, intimidate, or cause discomfort are a violation of our Code of Conduct, including:

- Offensive communication related to age, gender, sexual orientation, disability, physical appearance, body size, language, race, religion or belief, political opinion
- Inappropriate use of sexual images in public spaces
- Deliberate intimidation, stalking, following, harassing photography or recording
- Sustained disruption of talks or other conference activities
- Inappropriate physical contact, and unwelcome sexual attention

Any participant engaged in unacceptable behaviour will be immediately asked to stop and removed from the event. If you are subject to or witness harassment, intimidation, or discrimination, or have any other concerns, please contact k.m.schuster@soton.ac.uk or submit an anonymous reporting form

If you believe or see anyone is in physical danger, please notify conference organizers or University of Southampton security staff immediately.

Registration and attendance at the event is conditional upon acceptance of the Code of Conduct and any breach of it may lead to immediate and final withdrawal of your registration without a refund.

15.45-16.00 Closing Remarks

Session Details

Sessions will follow a particular format

- Talks: All three 20-minute papers will be delivered followed by 30 minutes of Q&A with all presenters.
- Lightning talks: All 5-minute lightning talks will be delivered, followed by 30-35 minutes of Q&A with all presenters.
- Workshops: The organisers of these sessions are responsible for chairing and moderating and will decide how to structure the session.
- Poster & Demo Session: All the posters and demos will run concurrently throughout the full length of the session. Attendees will be able to circulate among the various stations.

Hybrid Sessions

- All sessions marked 'hybrid' on the conference programme will be available to watch online. The welcome session, keynote, and both plenary sessions will also be livestreamed.
- All hybrid sessions will also have an additional chair to support online participation. They will ensure that questions asked in the online chat are shared with presenters in the room. Online participants may ask questions throughout the session using the chat feature.
- If you are attending online and have any issues hearing or seeing a presentation, please message the online chair in the chat. They will be your first point of contact for any technical issues.
- If you are having more serious issues that they cannot resolve, or you are unable to join the Teams meeting, please email the organising team at uk-ie.digitalhumanities@sas.ac.uk and we will do our best to assist you.

Guidance for Presenters

- Where possible, please arrive in the room 10 minutes before the session and check that your slides are ready to present on the device in the room.

- Please stick to your allotted time to ensure all presenters have their full time to present and respond to questions. Chairs will be asked to stop presenters who go more than a minute or two over their time.
- Sessions will end promptly to ensure delegates have sufficient time for breaks and/or to move to the following session.

Helpdesk & Technical Assistance

- Members of the organising team will be available at the registration desk, located in the Lecture Theatre C (65/1175), throughout the event.
- If you need any assistance please email uk-ie.digitalhumanities@sas.ac.uk
- If you have any technical issues with Teams during the conference, we will do our best to provide assistance. For technical support, please message the online Q&A moderator directly in Zoom.

Food & Drink

We will be providing tea, coffee, snacks and water throughout the conference, in addition to lunch on Monday and Tuesday. There are water bottle refill stations located around the venue.

There is also a full service café on the ground floor of Avenue Campus, if you would like to purchase food or beverages outside of the provided refreshments. Full details can be found at <https://catering.southampton.ac.uk/65-avenue>.

About the Association

In February 2020, the universities of Exeter, Galway, Glasgow, London, University College Cork, King's College London and Trinity College Dublin partnered to develop a network that would undertake research and consultation to implement a permanent Digital Humanities Association for the UK and Ireland. Jointly supported and funded by the Irish Research Council (now Research Ireland) and Arts and Humanities Research Council (IRC/V002163/2 & AH/V002163/1), this network laid the foundations for a new UK-Ireland Digital Humanities Association, which began its three-year implementation process in summer 2022 and launched in June 2023.

In 2026, UKRI renewed this support with a £300,000 investment (UKRI4065) to assist with the development of the Association as part of their Digital Research Infrastructure Programme. This is to support the long-term sustainability of DH across the UK and Ireland. We are currently hosted by the Digital Humanities Research Hub in the School of Advanced Studies, University of London.

The Association brings together researchers, practitioners and organisations from both countries to build a collaborative vision for the field, with a focus on issues such as sustainability, inclusivity, training, advocacy and career progression. This vision for the field builds on long-standing partnerships, research, and centres of excellence to further development and innovation in digital humanities.

The Association seeks to nurture the capacity for excellent research and teaching in digital humanities, to establish and sustain more effective connections across sectors, and to create new pathways for collaboration. These collaborations include partners in higher education; galleries, libraries, archives and museums; the technology sector; and the creative & cultural industries. Institutions and individuals engaged with the Association work to create new and sustainable partnerships across Ireland and the UK, as well as with the international community.

In the last 2 years, the Association has launched 5 Community Interest Groups covering a range of research interests, communities of practice, and salient issues in the field. These groups serve as a primary vehicle for community building within the Association and help us become more inclusive, collaborative, and sustainable by providing spaces that respond to community needs. We have launched a second call for new groups this year, which is open until 29 June. We introduced our Advocacy and Engagement Fellowship in 2025, and in 2026 a pilot small grants scheme for early career practitioners and researchers, which closes on 19 June.

By the end of 2026, we aim to implement a membership scheme to further expand the Association's capabilities. Visit the Association's website to read the roadmap, learn more about how you can get involved and join our mailing list: <https://digitalhumanities-uk-ie.org/resources/>

Accessibility

Step-free access

- Ground Floor of Avenue Campus that are step free:
 - 65/1163
 - 65/1177
 - 65/1095
- Lecture Theatre C (65/1175) is on the ground floor and the first row of seating is step free.
- Upper Second Floor of Avenue Campus (lift accessible)
 - Digital Humanities Hub (65/2155)

Toilets

- Gender neutral and accessible toilets are located on the ground floor and second floor of Avenue Campus.

Baby feeding and changing

- Baby changing facilities are available in the accessible toilets.
- New and Expectant Parent Room: 65/2121

Assistance dogs

- Registered guide or assistance dogs are welcome across all campus buildings and within university
- If you have severe medical allergies (e.g., animal dander), you can request specific allergy-awareness measures and accommodations

Blue Badge parking and drop off

- Blue Badge Parking and drop off is available in the Avenue Campus parking lot (in the campus map, the parking lot is the large grey area near Building 65): <https://www.southampton.ac.uk/student-life/campuses/avenue>

Captioning

- Automatic captions will be enabled on talks using Microsoft PowerPoint captioning.

Special Thanks

The organisers would like to extend their thanks to the members of the programme committee and colleagues who contributed their time for peer review. They generously volunteered their time and expertise to help shape the conference programme.

Program Committee

- Steven Gamble
- Vicky Garnett
- Samuel Pegg

Peer Review:

- Giota Alevizou
- James Cummings
